Town emergency group ACTION TEAM SET UP FOR FUTURE CRISES

FOLLOWING the recent violent storms, Seaton Town Council is setting up a new group to make sure residents and traders get the help they need in an emergency.

To be known as SEAT – Seaton Emergency Action Team – the group will be on hand in any crisis to assist the emergency services and anyone who needs help.

The town council met in special session to discuss the formulation of an emergency plan for the town and is calling on anyone who might be able to help or has a special knowledge or skill to contact them.

The town clerk has some previous experience of formulating such a plan, although not for a coastal town, and advised the council of actions that could be taken and who would be responsible in the event of an emergency people, allowing residents to know who to contact to get help and assistance.

Whilst it is not for the town council to take charge in any emergency, it can be there as back-up to the emergency services and to do whatever it could to help.

Councillors considered various emergency incidents which could hit the town, from more flooding, to a major power cut, an oil spillage, a major fire, snow or if an incident similar to the 'Napoli emergency' occurred in the bay.

Councillors agreed that from the outbreak of a major incident to the arrival of the necessary services, there could be a large time gap and therefore a plan of action needed to be in place.

Councillors also agreed that it was essential, where possible, for people to help themselves; in the case of flooding it was felt many people could install flood boards across their doors very cheaply rather than using sandbags.

It was also reported at the meeting that during the recent floods, the town council had filled and supplied approximately 300 sandbags, but it was noted that the council was under no obligation to undertake such a task.

A special leaflet will be produced at a later date to give people all the information they need in the event of a major incident, including the necessary contact details.

Town Mayor, Councillor Gaynor Sedgwick, said: "It is very important that there is an emergency plan in place for Seaton to help both residents and traders. As a council we are here to help, as we did with the sandbags, but our role will be to assist the emergency services when necessary, not replace them.

"We would love to hear from anyone who would be interested in joining SEAT, particularly anyone with specialist knowledge that could be vital in an emergency.

"Anyone interested should please contact the town clerk at the Town Hall."

Charities Day

SEATON & District Lions Club hosted a Charities Day at the Gateway in Seaton Town Hall on Saturday, March 15th for nearly 20 local charities. It was a chance for local charities to show the public what they do and how they help support the local community. Woman, 89, in serious condition after collision

An 89-year-old woman from Seaton was airlifted to hospital and remains in a serious condition following a road traffic collision on Sunday morning.

A Mercedes vehicle, driven by a 90-year-old woman, collided with the woman on Harbour Road near the junction with Bay Court at around 10:50am.

The woman was airlifted from the scene and flown to Deriford Hospital in Plymouth after suffering serious head, leg and arm injuries.

A police serious investigation collision unit, along with several other police units and ambulance crews attended the scene within minutes and cordoned off the area for most the day.

A police spokesperson said: "The road was closed for just over six hours while a specialist forensic investigation took place on the scene.

"This was a serious incident and we are appealing for witnesses who may have seen the incident, or seen the woman or the vehicle beforehand."

Witnesses are urged to call 101 quoting incident 343 23/03.

Quotes of the week...

“IT IS very important that there is an emergency plan in place for Seaton to help both residents and traders. As a council we are here to help, as we did with the sandbags, but our role will be to assist the emergency services when necessary, not replace them’

MAYOR of Seaton Councillor Gaynor Sedgwick on the formation of a Seaton Emergency Action Team following the recent storms.

“THIS major upgrade will make a real and lasting difference for people with dementia, enabling them to live independently in their own homes for longer. The staff and the individuals who use the centre absolutely love it and we cannot thank the League of Friends and their supporters enough for making this a reality’

Gaynor Appleby, team leader for older people's mental health services for Northern Devon Healthcare NHS Trust on the refurbishment of dementia services at Ottery St Mary Hospital.

“THE corner of the chapel garden in the north west is largely overgrown by a yew tree. Originally it was set aside for a wild garden but has unfortunately been taken over by nettles. The playground would give us another opportunity to apply for some kind of pedestrian crossing across the A3052. It would strengthen our request, which is very much needed. We have to take risks sometimes but I think we would gain by doing this. We should support it. I think it would be a marvellous amenity in the centre of our village. This is a further step for the church to meet the needs of our children.’

Gay Bremridge, former Chapel Warden, on a proposal to build a children's play area in the grounds of St Michael's Chapel of Ease at Colyford.

Derby thriller

AXMINSTER Town came from behind to win a stormy local derby with visiting Sidmouth Town on Saturday.

The Tigers led through a Ben Turner goal midway through the first-half. But the visitors drew level courtesy of a Mike Pidgeon shot from the edge of the box soon after the turn-around.

Two minutes later Sidmouth were ahead. Andrew Thompson netting from out wide with a shot that zipped in off an upright deceiving keeper Brett Garner.

Ax leveled in the 70th minute when Turner bagged his second before The Viking were reduced to 10-men when Wes Tarr was shown a second yellow card. The winner came courtesy of a Danny Bailly strike in the 85th minute.

The local duo could have their hands full next Saturday with Axminster on the road at third-placed Stoke Gabriel while the Vikings welcome Exwick Villa who currently sit third.

Tribute to wife who died in crash

TRIBUTES have been paid to Axminster resident Mellissa Williamson, who lost her life in an accident on Trafalgar Way.

She was known to her friends as Lisa, and her husband Peter said: "Lisa was my world and brought nothing but joy into my life, and the lives of those she met.

"She will be sorely missed by all our friends, but doubly so by me, and our dog, Ruby."

Lisa, 45, was the driver and sole occupant of a silver Ford Focus, which collided with a grey Toyota Rav4 at about 7.45am on Wednesday of last week.

The driver of the Toyota, a 56-year-old woman, also from Axminster who has not been named, remains in a critical condition in Frenchay Hospital, Bristol.

Police, a fire crew and two air ambulance crews were called to the scene, and Highways teams are helping to manage traffic.

COLYFORD

New play park?

RESIDENTS of Colyford debated the pros and cons of a children's play park being sited in the grounds of St Michael's Chapel of Ease this week.

Colyton Parish Council has been looking at possible sites for a playground in the village, as £22,000 of Section 106 money from local developments is currently available for the project, but the only possible area it has so far found is the grounds of the chapel.

Some church-goers have argued a play park would disturb the peaceful atmosphere of the chapel grounds and would be dangerous as the site is on the main A3052 road through the village, while others have argued it is a central location and would be beneficial to local children and families.

The possibility of a new play park was debated at the well-attended annual meeting of St Michael's Chapel of Ease on Sunday afternoon.

From the editor's chair Fancy owning a pub?

A VILLAGE pub is often the heart of a community but too many have been closed in recent years robbing villagers of a place to congregate and socialise. Some have also lost their village shop, a double blow to rural life as we knew it.

In April 2013 Punch Taverns put up for sale the Red Lion in Sidbury and there were fears that a new owner would not be found and the pub would go the same way as so many others.

But legislation enabled the Red Lion to be given the status of "Asset of Community Value" and a dedicated group of villagers vowed to save their village pub.

After many months of hard work we learn this week that Punch Taverns has agreed that the company set up by the villagers, Sidbury Community Enterprises, has been given the go-ahead to purchase the Red Lion. If they achieve their dream, it will become the first public house in East Devon to be owned by the community.

They are a determined lot in Sidbury and I have no doubt they will achieve their aim.

A purchase price has been agreed below that which the owners were originally asking. In the next few weeks they will be launching their community share offer and inviting residents from around the area to buy into the project. Soon they could own their own pub!

But the Red Lion is set to become more than just a place to enjoy a pint. Those behind the project are looking to create opportunities for all age groups to use the Red Lion as a community meeting place.

The whole project, of course, depends on enough people buying sufficient shares to raise the required amount to buy the Red Lion.

It's the last but most important hurdle but if the commitment and enthusiasm of those who have got the project this far is any indication, I'm sure the Red Lion will roar again.

♦ NEXT week, as part of our Axminster Fights Back Campaign, we will be honouring Axminster's Community Champions, those people who work so hard in our community, selected by you, our readers.

Our "Pride in Axminster" awards will be presented at a special awards dinner at Axminster Guildhall on Thursday, April 3rd with full details appearing in next week's edition.

SEATON

'Lives are at risk' in town centre

DRIVERS are putting lives at risk in Seaton town centre. That is the view of town councillor Tony Woodman who has called for an urgent meeting with Devon County Council and the police "someone pays the ultimate price."

Speaking at the March meeting of Seaton Town Council, Councillor Woodman raised the issue of the pedestrianisation of the town centre following a recent "serious incident".

Councillor Woodman told the meeting: "I, and others, witnessed a lorry reverse into the one-way system from Harbour Road, mount the pavement and keep reversing until it hit the rubbish bin outside Lloyds Bank. The driver got out, looked, made his delivery and drove off.

"The damage has been rectified and I believe insurance claims are being made, but the most worrying aspect of this was that the bin could have been a pedestrian. The driver clearly couldn't see behind him."

SIDBURY

Village buying pub

A PUB in Sidbury is set to become the first in East Devon to be community owned, after a group of village residents agreed to buy it.

Owners Punch Taverns put the Red Lion up for sale in April 2013, but due to its status as an Asset of Community Value, local people were given the first opportunity to purchase it.

The legislation enables a building to be marked as having particular importance to local communities. If the asset is put up for sale, the local community has six months to prepare a bid during which time the property cannot be put on the open market.

Over the last year, Sidbury residents have rallied to save the pub and established a company, Sidbury Community Enterprises, to buy the Red Lion.

HONITON

Antiques raid

A WOMAN was attacked and a number of high value items were stolen in a robbery at an antiques shop in Honiton on Saturday.

Police are appealing for witnesses after a man attacked a female shop worker at Banwell Antiques in High Street at around 9am on Saturday morning.

The offender stole a large quantity of expensive jewellery including gold bangles, bracelets, necklaces and rings.

A police spokesperson said: "The male sought is a white male of slim build, heavily unshaven with short dark hair, aged between 30 and 50. He was wearing a blue coat, blue denim jeans, black trainers, a beige coloured flat cap and was carrying a blue rucksack."

The woman was attacked by a lone male as she opened the store to start work.

The suspect made off with a number of items including 30 semi-precious and diamond-set pendants, an 18-carat solid gold solitaire ring and a necklace of hollow ornate gold balls.

The spokesperson said the woman was "shaken but unhurt" after the attack.

OTTERY

A £135,000 project to transform dementia services at Ottery St Mary Hospital has been completed.

The refurbished Rowan Assessment Centre and Linden Day Centre have been adapted to create a modern "dementia friendly" environment, suited to the needs of dementia patients and hospital staff.

A new kitchen, dining room, arts and crafts area and toilet block have been added to the complex, with specialist flooring and lighting also installed.

Building work began in November, and staff and patients moved in to the new-look centre last week.

The Northern Devon Healthcare NHS Trust, which runs the service, held an opening ceremony with members of the hospital's League of Friends, which funded the entire project.

Call to pedestrianise town centre 'before someone gets killed'

DRIVERS are putting lives at risk in Seaton town centre. That is the view of town councillor Tony Woodman who has called for an urgent meeting with Devon County Council and the police "someone pays the ultimate price."

Speaking at the March meeting of Seaton Town Council, Councillor Woodman raised the issue of the pedestrianisation of the town centre following a recent "serious incident".

Councillor Woodman told the meeting: "I, and others, witnessed a Hunts Food service lorry reverse into the one-way system from Harbour Road, mount the pavement and keep reversing until it hit the rubbish bin outside Lloyds Bank. The driver got out, looked, made his delivery and drove off."

"I instantly reported this matter to the company and to date have not had the courtesy of a reply. I also notified the police, county councillor Jim Knight and our town clerk because of the damage caused."

"The damage has been rectified and I believe insurance claims are being made, but the most worrying aspect of this was that the bin could have been a pedestrian. The driver clearly couldn't see behind him."

"I have since spoken to PC Stephen Speariett on this matter and while I accept the difficulty he has with limited resources, the regulations regarding the pedestrian area, which I am told are in place, need enforcing."

"The police telling people they haven't the resources to do this simply makes matters much worse."

In the incident I have referred to the driver was guilty of driving the wrong way in a one-way street, driving in a pedestrian area, failing to report an accident, failing to stop after an accident, at the very least driving without due care and attention and to the extreme dangerous driving. Yet he escapes scot-free.

"This cannot be right. We are hammering people who let their dogs foul but ignore drivers who put people's lives at risk."

Councillor Woodman said the "fantastic" Grizzly weekend proved beyond doubt what could be achieved if the town centre was pedestrianised.

He added: "It was just wonderful and I congratulate those who organised it. It was even on the TV."

"I again call on this council to take this matter seriously and call for action. I believe there is a need for a meeting between this council and all other interested bodies – Devon County Council and the police – to sort this matter out once and for all – before someone pays the ultimate price."

Don't take it for granted

PUPILS at Seaton Primary School were taught how to purify water in the build up to World Water Day (March 22nd).

The workshop-style sessions were organised by South West Water as part of its support for international charity WaterAid, which has a vision to ensure that everyone, everywhere has access to safe drinking water and sanitation by 2030.

Pupils from years four, five and six took part in water filtration experiments using basic techniques involving gravel, sand and cotton wool.

South West Water and WaterAid representatives provided expert insights into how the process works and why clean water shouldn't be taken for granted.

Ornithology conference

THE Axe Estuary Ringing Group (AERG), in partnership with the British Trust for Ornithology (BTO), will host the South West Regional Conference for bird ringers to be held in Seaton Town Hall on Saturday, April 5th.

Conference co-ordinator Mike Tyler said: "The conference will bring together up to 100 bird ringers who will be able to share important data and skills."

Located on the edge of the Axe Estuary Wetlands, where the AERG operates, Seaton is deemed a most appropriate venue.

The conference will be officially opened by the East Devon District Council chairman Graham Godber and will be an opportunity for bird ringers to hear about the latest ornithological activities and scientific research being conducted in the South West.

The research includes: the movements of wintering Shelduck on the River Axe and other estuaries in Devon; the Operation Godwit, relating to the colour ringing of Black-tailed Godwits over the last 21 years; Manx Shearwaters on Lundy; Pied Flycatchers adapting to climate change; monitoring of supplementary fed Tree Sparrows; and the formation of the new West Cornwall Ringing Group.

News briefs

KATE Boalch was re-confirmed as chairwoman of the Beer Regatta at the annual meeting last week.

Last year Boalch oversaw the popular return of the barrel-rolling which was held in front of huge crowds in Fore Street as numerous teams raced the empty beer barrels up an own the road.

"I am determined we should have barrel-rolling again as the support was incredible," said Kate.

"How could we not hold it again?"

Heather Teasdale has switched roles to take on the duties of treasurer so the regatta is looking for a new secretary.

Regatta week will start on Saturday, August 9th with the traditional angling competition with Regatta Day, including the raft races, on Thursday, August 14th.

"A new category on Regatta Day will be the best-dressed beach hut and tea hut and quite a few people have already been asking about that," added Kate.

MIKE Parker, well known in the village as the local newsgang, has been elected as the new chairman of the Mariners Hall committee.

The appointment was confirmed at the annual general meeting last Monday with Sue Ball becoming vice-chairwoman, Grant Audermard treasurer and Martin Ball in charge of property maintenance.

A TALK by Rose Ferraby entitled 'People & Stone on the Jurassic Coast' will be held at the Branscombe Village Hall on Monday, March 31st at 7:30pm.

A VACANCY has arisen on Beer Parish Council after Councillor Martin Cox decided to step down due to personal reasons.

"He is a very efficient, active and above all, a very friendly councillor and as such will be missed and very hard to replace," said chairman Martin Richards.

The council is looking for applications and if anyone is interested in the vacancy, please contact the clerk at clerk.beerparishcouncil@googlemail.co.uk or speak to an existing councillor.

BEER Parish Council's annual meeting will be held in the Balcony Room of the Mariners' Hall on Tuesday April 1st at 7pm.

SEATON Lions Club has donated £500 to Somerset Community Foundation's flood relief fund.

Most of the money was raised through collections, and a club spokesperson said: "We would like to thank members of the public for their support."

THE PAPER THROW HONITON - SERVING RURAL COMMUNITIES

Children's author in town

■ Actor and author James Rochfort read from his new children's book, The Race for Polldovia, when he visited Archway Bookshop in Axminster on Saturday, March 15th. The book – a fantasy adventure – is aimed at 8 to 12-year-olds. Archway Bookshop owner Tim Pritchard said: "Visitors really enjoyed it and were fascinated to talk to him and hear about his book."

Honiton man to lead badger cull protest

A HONITON man is to lead a protest march in Exeter against the proposed badger cull.

Andy Gilbert, who lives in Shelton, near Honiton, and runs a landscape gardening business in the town, has organised the march and expects people from Honiton and across the Westcountry to turn up and show their support.

Culls are currently underway in Somerset and protestors are concerned they will be expanded into Devon, Cornwall and Dorset this year.

And hundreds of protestors are due to gather in Belmont Park at noon on Saturday, March 29th to hear from wildlife campaigners, before marching through the city centre.

Mr Gilbert said: "It looks possible that if the Government does not learn from the failure of last autumn's pilot culls then yet again the fields and farms of the South West will face night-time shooting and cage trapping of badgers."

"And once again the most dedicated of activists will be there night after night monitoring and protesting this issue, which is so divisive within our communities."

"March 29th will be the opportunity for all those who disagree with the cull policy to voice their opinion in a democratic and peaceful protest open to all members of the public young and old.

"School teachers, gardeners, factory workers, retired servicemen, nurses and even farmers will come from across the country to join the ever growing and inclusive badger army."

The protest event will feature information stalls and conservationist speakers, alongside protestors blowing whistles and carrying banners with many dressed as badgers.

Get help with your reading

THERE are plans to set up a group for adults struggling to read who live in and around Axminster and Seaton.

One of those involved is Sheila Abby, who said: "Read Easy UK is a registered charity that enables people to set up new Read Easy groups in their own areas."

"We already have readers and coaches in the Axminster/Seaton area attached to the Bridport group, but feel it is now time to set up a group locally."

"We need volunteers to help set up and run a group and/or to become reading coaches; local businesses and organisations willing to offer space free of charge for reading sessions; local funding bodies, businesses and individuals who might be interested in helping to fund the group or sponsor individual new readers."

Read Easy works through community-based groups to train and support volunteers to give one-to-one reading tuition to adults who struggle with reading.

Sheila added: "Many people with reading difficulties are far too embarrassed to seek help if it means joining a class, so Read Easy offers an alternative which is free, friendly, flexible and fun.

"If you would be interested in supporting a group in your area in any of the above ways, then we would be very pleased to hear from you."

You can call Sheila on 01297 552847 or email sheila@readeasy.org.uk

Blooming in Axminster

BUSINESSES are being urged to "cover Axminster in flowers" this summer.

Axminster Chamber of Commerce is behind the call and chairman Lisa Lyman said: "We would very much like to encourage all businesses to put up hanging baskets this year.

"To make it really easy, we have arranged with Cloud 9 and Busy Bee that they will take orders until April 11th, with baskets being delivered at the end of May.

"Mole Avon also have ready-made baskets and the supplies to make your own.

"Chamber of Commerce members can collect discount vouchers for all three local suppliers from Apple Tree Galleries.

"Let's work together to make our town look beautiful this summer and encourage visitors to stop here and boost our local economy."

It's the wrong house

AN INTOXICATED man somehow found his way into a house in Abbey Close, Axminster, in the early hours of Thursday March 13th.

It is not clear how the man managed to enter the property but a police spokesperson said: "A man entered the property and was seen by the victim, who was sitting in the lounge.

Concert to raise funds for heritage centre

A FUNDRAISER in aid of Axminster Heritage's Thomas Whitty House heritage centre project will be held in Kilminster Village Hall on Saturday March 29th.

The fundraiser comes in the shape of a concert with The Two Rivers Big Band, Torridge and Straw, starting at 7pm.

Axminster Heritage is in the process of creating a heritage centre in Thomas Whitty House, and trustee Andrew Moulding said: "Following a very successful " nearly new sale' when over £1,500 was raised, we are now looking forward to further fundraising activities - all of which will assist us as we put together our bid for Heritage Lottery."

The first and second floors have been refurbished and five offices have been let to local people, helping to defray the costs of maintaining this listed Georgian building.

"The first floor has a kitchenette and well-equipped meeting room with a capacity of up to 50 persons and this is available for hire by contacting the tourist information centre on 01297 34386 or axminstertic@hotmail.co.uk.

"This historic grade 2 listed building is being managed by local trustees, but we hope many local societies and organisations will make use of it and that it will become a focus for the community in the centre of the town." Concert tickets are £8.50 each, available from Diana Church on 01297 32417.

Rosettes from Crufts

TWO Axminster dachshunds have returned to base after putting in solid displays at Crufts. Oliver (8) won the smooth-haired dachshund veteran category whilst his friend and housemate Harry (4) was placed in the top five of the open class smooth-haired dachshund.

Harry also performed in the main arena as part of a Carpaccio Kennel team in the Breeders' Competition. Oliver (left) and Harry are pictured with their owner Ann Jeffery.

£2 car park charge?

EAST Devon District Council (EDDC) car park charges in Axminster may be capped at £2 per day (from 10am) during a trial period.

Axminster Chamber of Commerce chairman Lisa Lyman and executive committee member Chris Tipping are in ongoing discussions with EDDC officials, it was reported at a recent chamber meeting.

Mrs Lyman said: "We have arranged with EDDC to possibly trial a £2 maximum charge in all car parks after 10am in the spring/summer.

An EDDC spokesperson told Pulman's View: "We are in the early stages of negotiations with the chamber, so it is too soon to say at the moment whether agreement can be reached and what any final offer might be."

Meeting over future of youth centre

ANYONE worried by the possible closure of Axminster Youth Centre has been invited to a public meeting by the town council.

Faced with budget cuts, Devon County Council (DCC) is considering drastic changes to its youth service, which would affect the youth centre in Axminster.

Should the youth service cuts become a reality, it has been proposed by DCC that an existing local group or organisation takes over the centre, or that one is formed to do so.

The town council has called the public meeting, which will be chaired by the mayor Jeremy Walden, to "try to ensure the continuation of a youth group in Axminster".

There is no suggestion the town council itself would take over the youth centre, but members are keen to bring interested parties together. Anyone with relevant experience or professional qualifications in setting up and running organisations is particularly welcome to the meeting, which will start at 7pm in Axminster Guildhall on Friday March 28th. Anyone interested but unable to attend can contact the town council on 01297 32088 or e-mail axminsterc@btconnect.com

Suspect to answer bail

THE man who was arrested in connection with a gas main fire in Seaton last year will answer police bail on Tuesday April 22nd.

Firefighters were called to Cross Street on Sunday, December 8th and five flats had to be evacuated.

A then 47-year-old former Seaton resident, residing in Falmouth, was arrested on suspicion of criminal damage.

He was subsequently bailed and the date for him to answer bail has kept changing.

Microwave toast fire

ONE person was treated for smoke inhalation after a small fire in Seaton.

The alarm was raised just before 10:30am on Saturday, March 15th and firefighters were dispatched to a property in Wychall Park.

A spokesperson for the fire and rescue service said: "Crews confirmed there had been a small fire involving toast in a microwave, which was out on arrival."

"Crews inspected the premises and one elderly female was treated at scene by paramedics for smoke inhalation."

Tramway open for business

AGAINST all the odds Seaton Tramway has overcome huge physical hurdles to repair its track in record time after the devastating storm on Valentine's night which washed away half-a-mile of track and flooded the company's Riverside Depot.

With only hours to go until the attraction was due to open for February half-term, staff were horrified to discover the devastation that had been caused by a combination of high winds, tides and abnormal river levels.

Not only did they have to suspend the service to visitors but had the added problem of having to work from flooded offices.

Managing Director, Jenny Nunn, said at the time that "unlike the poor people on the Somerset Levels, at least we had warm, dry houses to go home to!"

A concerted effort has been made by staff at the Tramway and contractors, Axminster Excavators, to get the track fully open again in time for daily service which starts on March 29th.

Much like the line at Dawlish, parts of the damaged rail and track were salvaged and removed for diggers and rollers to access and level the site.

In total over 600 tonnes of fill and ballast were brought in by road and then transported along the line to the site of the damage, compacted and then the track relaid and packed on top.

Jenny went on to say that "It seems difficult to comprehend that, what the storm took away in a matter of hours, has taken six weeks to put back and even now work will continue after we re-open on Saturday to ensure the track can withstand any future incidents like this."

"Now we're looking forward to getting back to the real job which is running a tramway and welcoming visitors from far and wide to take this unique trip along this much-loved route by the River Axe."

On another note, trams 6 and 8, which were transported by road when the damage first occurred to keep the service running between Colyton and Colyford, are to be brought back to the Tramway's Riverside Depot to re-join the rest of the fleet before service commences at 10am on Saturday, March 29th.

Let's get sailing

by Kevin Fahey

BEER Sailing Club is confident that the new season will launch as planned – even though the boats are currently stranded on the beach.

One of the after-effects of the worst winter storms in decades is that a huge wall of stones has built up on the beach, many washed around from Branscombe beach, over which it is currently impossible to launch boats.

"April 6th is the first day planned for racing so we have been in touch with East Devon District Council (EDDC) and they have promised to clear it," said Beer Sailing Club spokesman Michael Taylor.

"We pay a lot of rent to them (EDDC) as landlords so they should provide us with the facility to sail out boats. It would be very hard work to do that at the moment as I am not sure how the winches would work over a mound of stones like that."

The wall of stones doesn't just affect the sailing club. Customers at all three of the beachfront cafes – Ducky's on the west beach and Chappells and Kenno's on the east side – can no longer see the sea from their seats while likewise the deckchair operators need the beach to be flattened out.

"Hopefully EDDC will get something done soon because everyone in the tourist trade needs the beach to be sorted out," added Mr Taylor.

"But I am sure we will be sailing, no matter what."

Mr Taylor also revealed that Beer Sailing Club has received permission to erect a new storage facility on the beach for their equipment for sailing competitions.

New coffee shop and wine bar is open for business

AN exciting new coffee shop and wine bar opened its door to the public last week (March 24th).

Osborne's will open in the premises which was once home to the menswear shop that re-located to Seaton and has since been transformed into a stylish, chic space that has become the talk of the village.

"It is something totally new to the village and it is very exciting," said manager Adam Hughes.

"We hope it will be a great place for the tourists who come to Beer and also a great environment for the locals of Beer to come and relax."

by Kevin Fahey

Mr Hughes, who was appointed by owner James Absalom, will be a familiar face to many customers as he spent over five years working at The Anchor pub on the seafront.

He will share the management operation of Osborne's, which will be open daily from 8am to 11pm, with his partner Laura Dyson-James with staff also coming in a busy times.

"I have been coming to Beer since I was a nine-year-old and loved it so much that I eventually moved out of London to live here," added Mr Hughes.

"I feel ingrained in the life of the village and it is great to be back working here as I have spent the last year working at Tesco in Seaton.

"Fortunately I got to know James when I was working in The Anchor and when he approached me I knew it was a great opportunity.

"I feel so lucky and still can hardly believe it."

Mr Hughes said that cakes, pastries, sandwiches and paninis will be on offer during the day along with hot drinks, while in the evening cold meats, cheeses and olives will be available to complement the extensive wine selection.

TWO vehicles collided at Gully Shoot, Colyford, on the evening of Monday, March 17th.

The accident happened at about 6.15pm with fire crews from Seaton and Colyton attending.

On arrival, drivers from both vehicles were free and clear of the accidents and crews ensured both vehicles were safe.

THE Colyton and Colyford branch of Cancer Research UK would like to say thank you to everyone who supported their 11th annual Big Breakfast held recently in Colyton Town Hall.

Committee member Jean Love said: "We are extremely grateful to all concerned and the total amount raised was £2,500, which was a wonderful result."

"We would like to thank everyone who attended, all the local traders who gave us provisions or donations, those who loaned equipment or made donations in any way. We would like to say a special thank you to Colyford Butchers for their delicious sausages, Black-acre Farm eggs and Keith Sweetland for their very generous donations."

"We must also say thank you to all of our helpers on the day, we could not hold this event without your help."

COLYFORD WI is holding a jumble sale on Saturday, March 29th from 2pm to 4pm in Colyford Memorial Hall.

Anyone wishing to donate jumble, bring it on the day from 9am. There will also be a cake stall, plant stall and refreshments with entrance costing 30 pence.

Regular bingo player Maggie, from Whitford, has sent a message of thanks to organiser Eve and her helpers at the Tuesday bingo nights.

She said: "You are all to be congratulated for a job well done. Everyone knows how much time and effort go into planning and organising bingo every Tuesday night, it is much appreciated. Thanks also to the kitchen staff for their great cups of tea!"

Students have fun with science

STUDENTS at Colyton Primary School celebrated National Science and Engineering Week with a special programme of "Into the Future" themed activities.

Events included a visit from engineers at Alcoa who taught the children about robots and brought in real robots for the pupils to operate themselves. This was followed later in the week with a whole school building challenge in which the pupils were separated into groups to plan, design and build their own robots that could help stop climate change and save the planet.

The school was also visited by Sarah Connors from Resource Futures to teach students about the Reduce, Reuse and Recycle campaign.

Some classes also took part on trips out of school, including to New Barn Field Centre in Dorchester to learn how the Celts built round houses and to the National Marine Aquarium in Plymouth to learn about life under the sea and how to protect the ocean.

Other activities included making electrical circuits, using microscopes, learning about moths, bats and composting.

School supports air ambulance

CHILDREN from Hawkchurch Primary School were pleased to hand over a collection box to Devon Air Ambulance last week.

More than £200 was raised when parents from the school organised a community breakfast last month and served 70 people. Half the money has gone to the school and half to the air ambulance.

Tim Hoad, who collected the money on behalf of the charity, was delighted with the donation and explained that to the children that Hawkchurch is exactly the type of rural village that can really benefit from the service it provides.

■ PUPILS and staff of Hawkchurch Primary School are taking part in the British Heart Foundation's "Jump Off" event, which is being held at the school on Friday, April 4th at 1 pm.

A total of 35 pupils aged between four and 11 are putting on their trainers to take part in the fun skipping challenge as part of the national Jump Rope for Heart initiative organised by the charity.

Clare Cleverly, PE co-ordinator at Hawkchurch Primary, said: "Preparing for the 'Jump Off' has given our pupils a reason to get active, not to mention have lots of fun. The Jump Rope for Heart scheme helps us encourage healthy habits, whilst creating a more active ethos in school. It's a fantastic event for the school, teachers and pupils."

The school will also be holding a spring fete as part of this fundraising initiative where there will be a bouncy castle, stalls and refreshments available to buy.

Art society treated to colourful display

Illustrated talk on historic church houses for Devonshire Association

Seaton and District Art Society members were treated to a very colourful display of painting and a talk by Sara Bor, entitled "Colour and Texture in Oils".

Sara originally worked for a long time in the field of children's animated film and she showed members some of her work from that period, explaining that her deep involvement with colour and colour mixing started at this time.

She had also explored some of the wilder fringes of the art world, at one time growing grass in a sheep-shaped field and then allowing sheep to graze on it, thus creating a very thought-provoking image.

Her free approach to painting came as no surprise therefore, as she created the first layer on her canvases by throwing, wiping, scraping and brushing acrylic colours onto the canvas.

The audience were invited to participate, which they did with gusto, but showing that even this very free method of starting an image did in fact require an experienced touch and an eye for colour to get a pleasing result. Sara chose certain colours that she could see emerging from the acrylic layer and then mix them in oils. Since the bottom layer was now dry she was able to start applying the oil paints, again hardly using a paintbrush but referencing sketches she had made at the scene as she swirled scrapers and rags over the canvas. The results, which were unfinished images as yet, were scenes of great depth and subtlety. She promised to post the final results on her website. The next demonstration will be in the Town Hall on April 7th named "Ways and Means with Soft Pastels". All welcome with £3 charge for visitors.

METICULOUS research shone out from a talk on the county's rich heritage of mediaeval church houses, when Dr Sue Andrew completed the 2013 season at the Devonshire Association's Axe Valley branch meeting at the Peace Memorial Pavilion in Colyton.

Her well-illustrated March lecture was neatly complementary to Todd Gray's February lecture on Devon's mediaeval church bench ends, covering roughly the same continuity and change during the 500 years up to the disapproval of the Reformation.

London born and Edinburgh educated, Dr Andrew has family connections which always made her feel that Devon was home. She gained her PhD at Plymouth University and, since her 1983 marriage, she has herself lived in the handsomely restored church house at Walkhampton, a West Devon village between Tavistock and Yelverton.

The most concentrated section of her illustrative slides covered her own home, outside and in, before and since she and her husband undertook their restoration.

She traced the origins of church houses to a development of the Catholic religion which ruled that churches, previously home for all kinds of secular village activities, should in future be reserved for the sacred. At the same time, church architecture and fittings were improved, often leaving little behind apart from Norman fonts, and the new community houses were built in proximity.

There is little information about exactly what went on in the houses but it is obvious that some were big enough to provide hospitality for passing monks and wayfarers. Long before pubs became a commonplace, many of the houses made their own ale using local barley, to compete with similar houses nearby. We can assume that village priests encouraged this activity as much as anybody else.

Dr Andrew began her tour of the surviving houses at Poundstock in Cornwall and then Crowcombe in Somerset. She then moved to home territory to look at Buckfast Abbey, with its rich evidence of a mediaeval monks' guest house, followed by a wide variety of other Devon houses.

At times, some village religion switched back and forth between Catholic and Protestant but by the early 17th century the latter had taken control and various things were banned, ales among them. She showed how public houses, as we know them, moved into many of the disused buildings to go their own way but the speaker was also able to show that other church houses, such as the one at Widecombe, were still used for parish meetings.

Her talk was preceded by the branch's annual general meeting at which chairman Dr David Westlake reported on "a reasonably successful year". There was too slight an increase in membership, from 55 to 56, and it was the influx of visitors that made the lecture programme viable. The 2013 lecture on the now defunct Allhallows School and the Rousdon estate where it functioned, brought a record full house of paying visitors - not all of them old boys.

With thanks for another year of hands-on dedication, Dr Westlake was re-elected chairman with a committee of secretary Kathryn Gray, treasurer Dr Michael Barr and reporter Sean Day-Lewis.

Helpful critique for Honiton Art Society

A CRITIQUE of members work was given by well-known local artist and author, Ray Balkwill, at Honiton Art Society's March meeting.

Keeping members all entertained with his amusing anecdotes, Ray gave a very constructive and encouraging critique. He reminded the group of the importance of the "3Cs" - composition, colour and contrast in their work and to paint subjects that mean a lot to them, as this will show through in the end result.

Ray always prefers to paint outdoors as he believes that painting from life gives a better feel for the subject than can be obtained working from photographs alone.

To finish a picture to its best advantage, he stressed how the choice of a generous mount and frame can give importance to the

Chairman, Barrie Raby thanked Ray on behalf of all members.

The next meeting of the society is on April 14th at Awliscombe Village Hall, from 2pm to 4pm when Mike McDonald will demonstrate "Abstracts in Mixed Media". New members and visitors always welcome with a £2 charge.

Women's Institutes ROUND UP

SEATON

The March meeting of Seaton WI was held on Tuesday, March 18th at the Methodist Church Hall, Seaton. President Ann Attridge opened the meeting by welcoming everyone, followed by the singing of "Jerusalem" accompanied by Mary Fone.

After discussing future events, tea and biscuits, members enjoyed a talk by Mrs B. Lowther entitled "Life at the Palace of Westminster". Mrs Lowther had worked within the palace as a civil servant and gave members a brief history of the palace and what her work involved. The vote of thanks was given by Val Rutter.

Flower of the month results were as follows: 1st Jean Allsopp, 2nd Julia Bealing, 3rd Zelma Lindsay-Smith. Competition results on the theme "Your idea for a new law" were as follows: 1st Denise England, 2nd Aimee Guard and 3rd Gwen Jackson.

The next meeting is on Tuesday, April 15th at the Methodist Church Hall at 2 pm when Janine Barradale will be talking on the subject of "Intarsia & Fairisle Knitting". New members and visitors are always very welcome.

HONITON AFTERNOON

At the their March meeting, members of Honiton Afternoon WI were pleased to welcome Wendy Le Masurier from Wendy's Cookshop, which is based in the High Street in Honiton and is very well known to many people.

Wendy told the meeting that she grew up in Jersey and, after leaving college, she worked for a catering company for five years. She then decided she would take a round the world ticket for a year, returning to London where she worked for Selfridges demonstrating in the kitchen department. She later followed her family to Devon and set up her Cookshop, where she also runs cookery masterclasses.

At the end of her talk, members were able to purchase items from the display samples. A vote of thanks was given by Sheila Denny.

The next meeting is on April 14th at pm, in the Methodist Chapel. Yvonne Johnson will be coming to speak on "Textiles in the 21st Century". Visitors are always very welcome to attend.

HONITON EVENING

Bats was the speaker's subject at the March meeting of Honiton Evening WI, when local ecologist William Dommett gave an illustrated talk on the species.

Members heard that, although there are 1,000 species of bats worldwide, only 17 are resident in the UK, all of which belong to the Microbats group. Members were relieved to hear this when learning that the only other group, Megabats, contain species weighing up to two kilograms with wing spans of almost two metres.

Members later discussed extra events in the diary, including ten-pin bowling in Exeter, a coffee morning at a member's house, an evening meal in Lympstone and a walk along the River Otter.

Honiton Evening WI will next meet in the Methodist Chapel at 7.15pm on Tuesday, April 15th to host their WI Group when members of nearby WI groups gather for their six monthly get-together.

AXMOUTH

AXMOUTH WI president Denise Gates welcomed members and one visitor to their latest meeting.

Sylvia Virginia gave a report on the Food, Craft & Skills group, with upcoming sessions including making scissor holders on April 7th and stitchery on May 12th. Jackie reported that a trip to either Wells or Winchester were under consideration and other events being considered included a summer ceilidh, Agatha Christie day, a visit to Burrow Gardens and Devon County Show.

Mary Hyland Plantagenesta in Honiton gave a talk about how to start tracing one's family history. Official records, such as census returns, birth, marriage and death records, and ecclesiastical information is sought out. These documents provide such information as where your family lived, what they did for a living, how many children they had and social status. Mary also has access to records at the National Archives in Kew.

Winners of the Flower of the Month competition were, in first place, Jackie Lewis, Beryl Elston in second and Sue Barnard in third.

The competition for a "poem about my family" was won by Hilary Mabon with Sue Barnard in second and Val Trendall in third.

The next meeting will be the group's annual dinner at the Ship Inn in Axmouth.

WHITFORD & MUSBURY

The March meeting of Whitford & Musbury WI took place at Whitford Village Hall on Tuesday 11th. Apologies were taken and birthday posies given out.

The speaker was Roy Jones on "Family History". He explained that, whilst the internet is most helpful, he also enjoyed exploring various record offices around the country, especially at Exeter. The vote of thanks was given by Brenda Wheatly.

The group were told they had raised £475 for Devon Freewheelers and an additional £45 for ACWW. Members were asked to think about their next chosen charity.

On Tuesday, July 2nd the group will take their summer outing to Dartmouth and Totnes. There will also be a fish and chip supper with skittles on Wednesday, April 30th at Whitford Village Hall.

The next meeting is on Tuesday, April 8th at 7.30pm in the village hall when the subject will be "Let Them Eat Cake". All welcome.

THORNCOMBE

AT Thorncombe WI's meeting on March 11th members welcomed Professor Philip Howse OBE, who spoke about "Seeing Butterflies and Moths with New Eyes".

The talk and accompanying slides explained how colour mimicry and camouflage are used to deceive predators, and how a human's perception of what they are seeing differs profoundly from that of birds and other animals.

Flower of the Week was won by Barbara Barnes, with Rosemary McCrimmon and Brenda Sheasby coming second and third respectively. The competition for a piece of butterfly jewellery was also won by Rosemary, with Brenda Sheasby and Margaret Retter coming second and third.

The annual general meeting will be held on Tuesday, April 8th in Thorncombe Village Hall at 7.30pm. New members and visitors will be most welcome.

ELISABETH Lynn opens this week with a message:

"Local churches as represented by Axminster Job Club have invited a shark along to the Job Fair at the Guildhall on Thursday. Yes, really!"

"And Councillor Douglas Hull has volunteered to don the costume as a way of publicising the activities of loan sharks who, along with pay day companions, are increasingly taking advantage of 'a friend to a friend' and spiral into threats and even violence. Long prison spells wait those who are reported to the police."

"Details about trustworthy help available to borrowers will be on hand at the Job Fair, as it is every Thursday morning at the Job Club, and at the credit union Plough and Shares, both of which work out of the Methodist Church Hall in Lyme Road."

In addition to regular events, the season of Lent provides a variety of additional related activities, which are well announced in the parishes and often move from parish to parish, while still keeping the same day in the week, so do consult notices, etc.

At Ottery's St Mary's Parish Church, Lent Lunches and a biblical exposition from Steve, the Rector, are going well and on Mothering Sunday, March 30th, the main service is at 10am for families and friends - no lunches that day.

Lunch theme for April 6th is based on John 11, the story of Lazarus and his sisters.

Funding for the plans and roof project for the Ottery United Reform Church are going well and it is hoped to make a summer start. A special concert on April 5th should provide a boost for funds and an excellent evening.

Other local churches with need for help over their fabric are at Seaton's Parish Church, where the Friends of St Gregory's Parish Church have just been launched. Then, following the fire at Axminster's historic Minster Church, the Friends of the Minster and others are hoping to raise funds to cover these unexpected costs. For details contact Mary Harding on 01297 32155.

This edition appears on March 25th as Colyton Mothers' Union has a Deanery Lady Day Service at Woodbury, 11.30am.

Mothering Sunday is kept on Sunday, March 30th by the majority of churches and it is the day when the clocks go forward. Throughout the SouthWest in all the six dioceses,

Pulman's View from the churches

the season of Lent is being taken seriously, with the Bishop of Crediton and his wife pledging to buy and eat only food grown and produced in Cornwall and Devon, with the proviso "wherever possible."

Elsewhere, at Exeter Cathedral, flood lighting has been turned off until Easter Day to play a part in the Carbon Fast 2014 during Lent. Throughout Exeter Diocese, church schools and individuals are being encouraged to commit themselves to the Carbon Fast 2014 this year as their discipline to aim to reduce carbon emission by 40 per cent this Lent. This could amount to easy achievable challenges such as removing a light bulb at home or having a meat free Sunday lunch.

The normal life of our churches goes on but recent flooding and storm damage demands attention, and the good news is that historic churches that suffered flooding and storm damage will get financial help, and at least 11 churches have been promised assistance. In addition, the government has announced that councils are to get funding of £140million to repair roads.

Proposals to convert the House of Commons Chapel, St Mary Undercroft, as a multi-faith centre especially so that same-sex marriages can be solemnised have been blocked in the light of many objections.

On Monday evening, just before this issue was published, the third in the series of "Rev" was launched on BBC 2. In addition to weekly screenings there is to be a book titled "The Rev Diaries" due out on March 27th.

News from Rome is that Pope Francis has just celebrated the first anniversary of his election and marked it by prayer and contemplation, thus setting aside the pomp and ceremony often associated with the papacy. "Please Pray For Me" was written by the 77 year old, in nine languages, echoing the appeal made in his first address given a year ago.

Let's have an interjection of commonsense on bat issue

■ I WAS saddened but not surprised by the anti-demolition antics (or are they really anti-housing development antics?), reported by Kevin Fahey in your Pulman's View edition of Tuesday, March 11th.

If common sense were followed, there should be no need for mitigation licences, permissions, etc. from any organisation, neither Natural England nor EDDC, for the demolition of corrugated iron sheds/garages.

The fact is that bats are not stupid. They do not roost under corrugated iron for the very simple reason that they would fry if it was a summer roost and freeze if it were a winter roost! So even if they were roosting there, it would have been a good idea to turn them out for their own good!

They tend to use roof cavities that are well-protected against heat and cold; traditionally a cave or holes in trees. However, since humans put up nice stone, slate and tile roofed houses, with a good clear fall below the rafters to take their guano, they were quick to see the potential and move in.

Bats do need rafters or a rough stone roof that is insulated/protected from extreme changes in temperature, and that is out of the way of owls, rats and other predators. They like crevices, but only where these are high up and they can defecate into a "void" without going outside!

This separation of the bats from their faeces is crucial to their survival, both because it removes them from the proximity of potential pathogens, but also means that these very clean animals do not have to make contact with their faeces.

The man-made bat boxes that I have seen are very shallow, thus they do not provide either the protection from temperature change, nor the separation from the faeces. This means that any diseased animal joining the community, will quickly infect all the others and future generations, should there be any.

Let us have an injection of commonsense, rather than expensive paperwork that allows only the provision of temporary extermination camps for bats.

Better advertising needed for pool

■ REGARDING the £10,000 loss at Seaton Primary School swimming pool;

The only place you might see the pool advertised is on a banner hung over a gate leading into Elizabeth Field or on an A-board by the gate in Scalwell Lane.

Why not a decent permanent sign in our tourist information centre? Also, signage around the town directing people to the pool and, of course, regular advertising in our local papers.

This advertising should have been carried out when the pool was first opened to the public and should be an ongoing feature.

Youth clubs a great asset to lose in council budget cuts

■ THE following is a copy of a letter to Devon County Council:

You have something to be proud of, your youth service. Something to show young people they are truly valued and important, something far more important than money or white sand on a beach.

You own your youth centres, you've designed them for the young people who use them.

You have over 160 trained and dedicated staff throughout Devon. You have teenagers volunteering their own time to be trained up to help and mentor other young people.

You are providing an environment young people feel they can meet and make friends in, where they can discuss personal and private issues in confidence with trained staff, where difficult issues such as disorders and addictions can be sensitively handled.

You are offering a hugely important service, a service that is up and running and doing a good job for young people; a positive service that needs to be ring-fenced from cuts.

So, as a parent, I'm shocked and saddened to hear that in this, your third round of cuts, you intend to close all your youth clubs, reduce your staff to about 20 and offer only one-to-one help to a few across the entire county.

The posts of your valuable staff will no longer exist, the young people you have trained will have wasted their time and the young people of the county will have lost a vital part of their young lives and transition to adults.

What an asset to lose to save money.

Great to see new business in Seaton

■ HOW good is it to hear of another new business open in Seaton and nice to see a young resident of the town start it up?

Amie, new owner of Luxy Locks, has a bright, modern hair studio and I was very pleased with my new hair style. Also, I took my mother with me. She is in her 90s so all ages are catered for.

I will be making regular visits from now on and it's so handy as no appointment is necessary, just call in, and having a late evening opening is ideal if you are a worker.

So, thank you Amie and I will see you soon. Also thanks for the free coffee and I will be looking out for your offers on my next visit.

New campaign teaches how to shop for meat

THE seventh National Butchers' Week, which takes place between Monday, March 24th, and Sunday, March 30th, is launching a new campaign to teach the Internet generation how to shop for meat.

The leading industry magazine Meat Trades Journal, which organises the Week with the support of key industry sponsors, is using the occasion to create an online 'Idiot's Guide to the Butcher's Shop' to help young people pluck up the courage to pay their high street butcher a visit.

The annual event will also be highlighting the unique service provided by butcher's shops including their many unusual, exciting and often cheap cuts of meat which people simply can't find in their local supermarket, as well as showing customers how to cook them.

Thousands of butchers throughout the country will also be holding special events throughout the Week, ranging from taster sessions aimed at enticing young people to sausage making demonstrations, which shoppers can take part in by dropping in at their local butcher.

LET THESE LOCAL BUSINESSES MAKE YOUR HOUSE A HOME & YOUR GARDEN GLORIOUS

David Lloyd

MY NAME is David Lloyd. After training at Rycotewood College in Thame, Oxfordshire, during 1994-95 I worked for small firms until I decided to start my own business.

I have been an independent cabinet maker and joiner since 2003.

From my Dunkswell workshop, within the beautiful Blackdown Hills, I deliver mainly to Devon, Somerset and Dorset, but can deliver further a field if required.

What do I make? Well, almost anything in wood!

I make free standing and fitted furniture for kitchens, dining rooms, living rooms, bedrooms, studies, bathrooms and even the garden!

Designs are agreed with the client after discussing needs, specifications and any foibles or special features they may require.

Bespoke furniture making permits freedom of design and choice of material to suit all tastes and budgets.

I also undertake bespoke joinery commissions if you need something a little different. Awkward, odd sized or listed building compliant internal / external doors, staircases and windows etc...

I am passionate about using English timber for my commissions as I believe it has more character. However I will use solid timber from overseas if the job requires it or you would like to use it, for example, using American Black Walnut for kitchen worktops or African Sapele for doors.

I would be happy to see you at my workshop to discuss a future project or to just chat about wood. If you are thinking of visiting my workshop, please ring first to make sure I am available.

Boost your bedrooms...

ONE of the best ways to make your home more suited to your needs, especially if you have a growing family or want to work from home, is to add a bedroom.

Increasing the number of bedrooms can also put your home in a different price bracket if and when you come to sell.

The most obvious place to put an extra bedroom is upstairs, with all the others, and sometimes it's possible to use the space you already have.

For example, if the main bedroom spans the front of the house, you may be able to divide it in two, as long as each room has its own, separate window. This may not be as satisfactory as adding space, but it can work well if your home's big enough and you're on a limited budget.

When you come to sell, remember that couples and sharers will probably be looking for good-sized double bedrooms, while families may be happier to have more, smaller bedrooms if it means one for each child.

If rejigging the existing space isn't an option, consider converting the loft into a bedroom or bedrooms instead. If you can also fit a bathroom or shower room up there, and built-in storage, you've created the perfect master or guest suite.

The cheapest and easiest loft conversions are ones with skylights (eaves conversions), as the line of the roof is unchanged. However, this isn't ideal if the loft has limited space.

Building out the roof to create more useable space inside is often necessary, which means a (more expensive and complicated) dormer, mansard or hip-to-gable conversion.

The pitch of the roof can make a big difference to how useable the space is - some lofts don't have enough head height to make the conversion worthwhile unless you lower the ceilings in the rooms below. This is a big and expensive job and won't be practical if the ceilings are already quite low.

You also need room for a good-sized staircase up to the loft on the floor below and if this means losing a bedroom, you may not gain much by converting the loft.

Building regulations for loft conversions are very strict about having a safe means of escape in the event of a fire, so it's not necessarily the easiest way to add an extra bedroom.

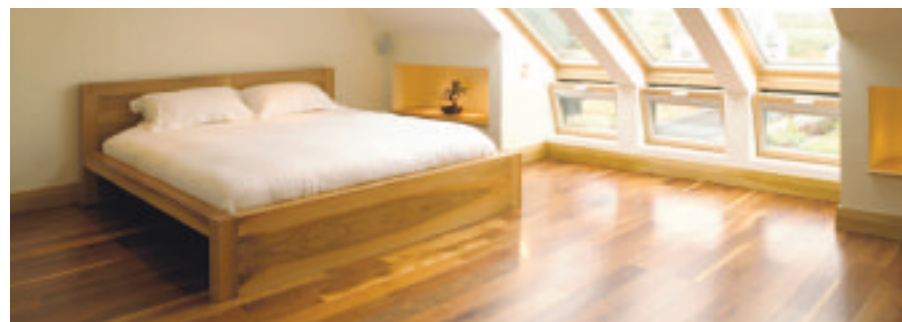

Creating a downstairs bedroom, and preferably a bathroom or shower room next to it, can work better, providing your home's layout is suitable.

Ground-floor extensions are usually used to add kitchen, dining and living space, but they can include bedrooms.

A two-storey extension is often better because you can create extra living space downstairs and bedrooms upstairs and it should be cheaper than doing a ground-floor extension and a loft conversion, but two-storey extensions aren't always easy to do with our planning system.

Another way to add a bedroom is converting your home's garage (or outbuildings) into one. If the garage is mostly used for storage and the stuff can be stored elsewhere, the garage may be more useful and valuable as a bedroom, as long as it's converted properly and sympathetically.

To get the best of both worlds, you could put a bedroom on top of the garage, if there's space to build above it and for a new corridor on the first floor.

Honiton Garden Centre

Its time to get mowing, sowing and growing!

AS SPRING starts to appear and we say goodbye to the wettest winter on record, thoughts can finally turn to our gardens and the tasks we can be doing to get them set for a fantastic summer.

Have a look at your lawn and check for any patches that need reseeding, look for moss, a particular problem with the wet winter this year and apply a moss treatment to help the grass get growing for the new season and give you a lush, green carpet for the summer season.

Propagating seeds to grow your own vegetables, whether it's for a full size veggie plot or a modest patio planter is a hugely rewarding pastime at this time of year. Nature is bursting into life and now is the time to plan and plant your crop for your very own supply of potatoes, onions, peas, beans and salad leaves. They'll be ready to enjoy within weeks and nothing tastes better than the food you've grown yourself.

Digging over the flower borders, adding some compost and nutrients will give your summer show of colour the best possible display. Its worth some hard work now to dig over the soil, which will have been compacted by the sheer amount of rain we've experienced in recent months and allow the goodness you're putting down to really get into you're borders and do its job.

At Honiton Garden Centre we stock everything you'll need to care for, and enjoy, your garden and with our helpful and friendly team always on hand to give plenty of free advice, our onsite café and restaurant offering a delightful place to stop for a break from the gardening and our convenient and accessible location we look forward to welcoming you soon.

CATH du Preez MTI

Registered practitioner and full member of the Message Training Institute (MTI) and the Complementary & Natural Healthcare Council (CNHC)

Massage is a hands-on, holistic method of health care. Massage therapists use hands-on techniques on the muscles, fascia, tendons, ligaments and joints to bring relief from everyday aches, reduce stress, increase relaxation, address feelings of anxiety and tension, and aid general wellness.

Massage therapy also treats specific physical and medical conditions by releasing muscle tension, restoring muscle and postural balance, increasing circulation and improving tissue nutrition. Therapeutic massage can effectively treat long term chronic pain, motor vehicle accident rehabilitation, athletic injuries, repetitive strain injuries and nerve impingements.

It can also be used in support of other therapies to assist in the rehabilitation of muscular injuries i.e. massage can improve the effectiveness and comfort level of chiropractic or physiotherapy care.

Massage can also be an important part of a preventative maintenance program. For long term health, consider a maintenance plan of monthly treatments. This approach works well when you are at a level of health that you want to maintain. The monthly massages take care of minor aches before they become painful problems.

Podiatrist/Chiropodist

I HOLD my private chiropody clinic at Townsend House Surgery in Seaton on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays.

I offer a range of treatments from a simple nail cut to nail surgery, and each treatment plan is priced accordingly.

The nail cutting only service is a shorter appointment and is ideal for those that don't have any other foot care needs. Others like to alternate nail cuts with chiropody treatments as it best suits their requirements. I always aim to work with the patient to find the best treatment plan to suit each individual. Patients feet are then monitored during treatment so that changes can be made should the need arise.

Diabetic patients who attend for chiropody will also have a diabetic foot assessment carried out during their first treatment, and will then be monitored and re-assessed as necessary.

My chiropody clinics are available to anybody seeking help with their feet and Townsend House and I look forward to welcoming you.

Val Davis Traditional Acupuncture

Acupuncture can improve and maintain health and energy and enhance a sense of well-being

ACCORDING to traditional Chinese philosophy, our health is dependent on the body's motivating energy (qi) moving in a smooth and balanced way through a series of channels beneath the skin.

Acupuncture can affect the quality of qi, your body's vital energy, by the insertion of very fine needles into specific points along these channels.

This stimulates the body's healing response and restores natural balance. Treatment is aimed at the root cause of your condition as well as your main symptoms. This approach helps with resolving your problem and enhancing your feeling of well-being. You may notice other niggling problems resolve as your main health complaint improves.

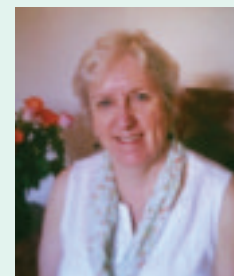

The type of conditions that I mostly see in my clinics include the following: arthritis, back pain and sciatica, poor circulation, low energy levels, hormonal/menopausal symptoms, pregnancy management, fertility problems, weight management, and addictions such as smoking. However, you don't have to be ill in the conventional sense to benefit from acupuncture, sometimes people come to see me because they are feeling low, unwell in themselves, or maybe not sleeping as well as they would like to.

Professional Acupuncturists spend at least 3 years training at degree level to become an Acupuncturist. We are then entitled to join the British Acupuncture Council and to use the letters Lic.Ac., B.Ac.C after our names. We also have public liability and professional indemnity insurance. Many of us have also studied at post-graduate level and are constantly updating our skills and experience.

So, why not give me a ring and see if I can help.

Michelle Hague
Behavioral Hypnotherapy

Helping to cope with stress and anxiety

ANXIETY and stress can often create symptoms that in time cause illness. Anxiety is known to produce noticeable physical symptoms, such as rapid heartbeat, high blood pressure, and digestive problems. In General Anxiety Disorder (GAD) and Social Anxiety Disorder (SAD) the symptoms become so severe that normal daily functioning. Clinical Hypnosis and Cognitive behavioural therapy (CBT) are common treatments for stress and anxiety disorders and can be very effective in changing thinking and responses.

In contrast with CBT and in many ways very similar to Hypnosis Mindfulness and mindfulness-based therapies (MBTs) seek to change the relationship between the anxious person and his or her thoughts.

In mindfulness, the person focuses on the bodily sensations that arise when anxious. Instead of avoiding or withdrawing from these feelings, the focus is on remaining present and fully experiences the symptoms of anxiety. Instead of avoiding distressing thoughts, opening up to them in an effort to accept that they are not literally true, just ideas and imaginings often related to the past or future events but no less unreal in the present.

By remaining present in the moment aware of the breath and the body, individuals can learn that the anxiety they experience is merely a reaction to thoughts. By positively responding to threatening events instead of being reactive they can overcome an mistaken stress fight-or-flight response, and take control of their life.

Mungo Jerry and Tommy Emmanuel to play Budleigh!

RAY Dorset - he of the huge mutton-chop sideburns - will bring the irrepressible Mungo Jerry to the Public Hall in Budleigh Salterton on Sunday, April 13th, and hopefully he will bring with him an early taste of the 'Summertime' ahead!

'In The Summertime' was the Mungos' debut single back in the spring of 1970, and a massive hit for a hitherto unknown band named after the poem 'Mungojerrie and Rumpelteazer' from T.S.Eliot's 'Old Possum's Book of Practical Cats' - not a lot of people know that!

Released on May 22nd, Britain's very first 'maxi-single' entered the UK singles chart at #13, hitting the number one slot the next week where it lodged for seven consecutive weeks, becoming one of the highest-selling singles of all time with an estimated 30 million units sold worldwide.

Ray Dorset, who composed the song in 10 minutes using a second-hand Fender Stratocaster, had to ask for special leave from his boss to appear on BBC TV's 'Top Of The Pops' when the song first rocketed chartwards...

Topping out the weekend Budleigh Guitar Festival, over the weekend following Easter, on Saturday, April 26th, is Australian showman and guitar virtuoso, Tommy Emmanuel, who will fly in especially for the festival appearance from Italy, where he will return on Monday for a concert appearance in Florence.

Also appearing, amongst a full and sparkling supporting cast are the Martin Barre Band, legendary pedal steel player B.J.Cole, ragtime expert John James, John Etheridge, formerly of Soft Machine, and Squeeze frontman Glenn Tilbrook.

Tickets for both Mungo Jerry and day or weekend tickets for the Budleigh Guitar Festival are available from Budleigh & Sidmouth TICs, from the Cardline on 01395 443419/07891 663044 (8 til 8) or on-line at www.wegottickets.com and a full bar and pre-concert supper will be available as always.

QUARTET TO BE STAGED IN SHUTE

S.T.A.G. (Shute Theatre and Arts Guild) will present Ronald Harwood play which was the inspiration for the 2010 movie.

WITH an extremely talented cast, the action is set in Beecham House, a home for retired musicians, where the characters, surrounded by music, literature and memories of their former glory offer a delightful insight into their lives, past and present, whilst getting to grips with their own mortality.

Quartet promises to be a wonderful evening of live entertainment. It's a most enjoyable thought provoking tale. A light hearted and often moving story of old friends. Once described as an "unashamed - no, shameless - vehicle for four feisty old troupers whose task is to make us laugh a little, sigh a little and cry a little." Harwood in his writing of Quartet has combined dazzling wit, to create this delightful comedy that is at times poignant and at others very funny.

Reg (Nick Bussain) Wilf (Steve Vernon) and Cissy (Kathryn Gray) residents of Beecham House, are buzzing with the news of a new arrival expected at the home. Jean (Tish Wells) arrives to a mixed reception, especially from Reg to whom she was briefly married years ago. Can the passage of time heal old wounds? - Will they all ever sing together again?

Surrounded by the wonderful ambience of St Michael's Church, Shute, this production of Quartet shouldn't be missed, and is sure to be a sell out.

The show will be performed from Wednesday, April 2nd to Saturday, April 5th at 7.30pm at St Michael's Church, Shute.

Tickets are available now from Box offices or online, and from Archway Book Shop, Axminster; Hurfords Stores, Kilmington; The Little Shop, Colyton and Frank Estate Agents, Seaton.

Seaton Drama Group dedicate upcoming 'World Premiere' to show's author

SEATON Drama Group have had problems casting plays in recent years, mostly due to a lack of men, and the right age group. So when Mary Bowles, director of the upcoming performance of Jack Up, saw an online Amateur Stage magazine story with the heading 'At last a play that anyone can cast' she jumped on it!

The show's author, Ian Hornby, was thrilled to hear from Mary and was really excited when Seaton Drama Group agreed to stage it as it was 'hot off the press' and would be the show's World Premiere.

Mary ordered scripts and continued to prepare with auditions and casting readings, but upon writing to Ian in December to say that she hadn't received the scripts, sadly the reply came from his wife to say that Ian had died suddenly at the beginning of December from a heart attack. Ian's wife was delighted that Seaton Drama Group wanted to continue with their production, the group decided to dedicate the performance to Ian Hornby.

Jack Up is a typical comedy farce, set at 'Abbeywood' bowling club. All is not well with the Club and their arch rivals 'West Worth' bowling club... the antics the clubs get up to and consequences are hilarious... anything goes to win!

Cast: Ed Dolman, Adam Tedbury, Mark Mills Durston, Phil Christmas, Beverley Hammett, Marilyn Sibley, Val Christmas, Elizabeth Barlow, Margaret Leighton. Directed by Mary Bowles.

Performances of Jack Up take place at The Gateway, Seaton Town Hall, on Thursday, April 10th and Friday, April 11th at 7.30pm each night. Tickets cost £7 (£5 for ages 12 and under) and are available from the box office from 10am-4pm, Monday-Friday, and 10am-1pm on Saturday, or by calling 01297 625699.

Pulman's Property View

Sidmouth £650,000

Colyton £699,000

A strong property budget?

By Mark Goodenough of Fine & Country

WITH last weeks budget announced by George Osborne containing a variety of what could be described, 'feel good' announcements, was there anything to aid the housing market recovery? We asked Mark Goodenough for his thoughts:

1. Government 'Help to Buy' Scheme

The first phase, the equity loan scheme, has now been extended to 2020, when originally announced it was due to run until 2016. Help to buy has already opened thousands of doors for first timers and second steppers and this announcement will help even more to get keys to new homes.

2. Pensions/Annuities change

There is a school of thought which believes that, with the revolutionary announcement that Pensioners will be able to withdraw money from pensions (from April 2015), could lead to more funds being targeted at property investment. This development will certainly empower pensioners to take complete control of their pension pot and property is an obvious target for those seeking enhanced returns from a robust buy to let market.

3. Fiscal Control

An indirect benefit to the market maybe, but the pursuit of continued low interest rates with see continued confidence and wide affordability in a recovering property market.

How will George Osborne's budget for 'Makers, Doers and Savers' affect small businesses and people in Somerset?

THIS is a Budget for the makers, the doers and the savers," said Chancellor George Osborne when he delivered his fifth budget on Wednesday 19 March. "You have earned it; you have saved it and this Government is on your side." Despite criticism from Labour leader Ed Miliband, Mr Osborne's message to the nation's tax payers has resonated well with leaders of Britain's business community, such as the British Chambers of Commerce, whose director general John Longworth said: "Business wanted a Budget that was disciplined, focused and geared towards the creation of wealth and jobs - and that's what the Chancellor has delivered."

Certainly Ilminster based Chartered Accountant Robert Stone believes that Somerset businesses and individual tax payers have plenty of positives to take from the Budget. "A freeze on duty on West Country ordinary cider will help Somerset's cider producers, while there are some interesting initiatives to encourage house-building, which will benefit both local companies involved in construction and property, as well as people looking to buy."

Robert was pleased to see that savers will be rewarded with higher tax-free limits for ISAs and premium bonds later this year, together with a cut on savings income from 2015.

"However, anyone using tax avoidance schemes is going to be extremely disappointed, as the Government has continued its policy of tightening up on tax loopholes. They will have to pay the tax avoided up front, while tax loopholes used by groups of companies are blocked. The rules for Venture Capital Trusts (VCT) schemes are also being tightened up to deter abuse."

Main summary of key areas in 2014 Budget likely to affect Somerset businesses and individuals

Business Taxes - Budget 2014

"Generally the Budget George Osborne has delivered is a good news story, particularly for business investment, which is still below pre-recession levels.

"One of the biggest surprises was an increase in the annual investment allowance (AIA) to £500,000 from April this year is designed to encourage small businesses to invest in equipment and will mean that up to 99.8% of businesses could receive 100% upfront relief on equipment and fixtures (excluding cars and buildings) in the year of purchase. However, it's a case of take advantage now or lose it, because the AIA will revert back to £25,000 after 31 December 2015.

"Innovative businesses will be rewarded by the increase in the Research & Development tax credits. This is awarded according to the size of the business, so small and medium businesses (SMEs) receive 225% of qualifying expenditure and large businesses get 130%. If an SME is making a loss, then it can claim a cash credit from HMRC of 11%-14.5% from 1 April 2014.

"Businesses in some of the country's 46 Enterprise Zones can claim 100% capital allowances on the equipment they use within the zone. The time allowed to claim these allowances has been extended for another three years to 31 March 2020.

Individual Tax Payers - Budget 2014

"The increase in the personal allowance from £10,000 to £10,500 in 2015 will be worth about £100 to the average taxpayer, on top of which a transferrable married couple's allowance of £1,050 will help basic rate taxpayers from 2015."

"The 10% starting rate tax band for savings income is to be reduced to 0% from April 2015 and more people will be able to receive gross interest thanks to the threshold for savings income being raised to £5,000.

"A particular highlight of Mr Osborne's Budget is the new "super ISA", which with its £15,000 tax free yearly limit is destined to be the most "far-reaching reform since 1921" of the way pensions are taxed.

"The Seed Enterprise Investment Scheme (SEIS), which was introduced in 2012 to encourage investment in small companies has now been made permanent with the income tax and capital gains tax reliefs applying for all future years.

"The Government has announced improvements to its new tax-free childcare scheme with relief of 20% on the costs of childcare up to a total of £10,000 per child per year. The scheme will be worth a maximum of £2,000 per child and will be launched in autumn 2015.

Pensioners - Budget 2014

"The pension reforms to this year's budget are quite radical with the following changes being introduced from 27 March 2014:

A person who wishes to take their pension as "draw-down" instead of buying an annuity will have to prove they have £12,000 of other income in retirement, rather than £20,000.

The capped drawdown withdrawal limit will increase from 120% to 150% of an equivalent annuity.

The total pension savings which can be taken as a lump sum will increase from £18,000 to £30,000.

The maximum size of a small pension pot which can be taken as a lump sum (regardless of total pension wealth) will increase from £2,000 to £10,000; and

The number of personal pots that can be taken under these small pot rules will increase from two to three.

"In addition the Chancellor proposes to change the rules for defined contribution pension schemes from April 2015 so that individuals will have complete freedom in how they access their pension savings. Buying an annuity will not be a requirement on retirement and the 55% tax charge on withdrawing too much from a pension fund will be removed. But most importantly everyone will be offered free and impartial advice on how to best use their pension savings and I would certainly recommend that people take advice on their pension savings if they are retiring in the next year."

"Finally, bingo playing pensioners will be delighted to know that from 30 June 2014, the percentage of bingo promotion profits paid in duty will be cut from 20% to 10%."

Robert Stone is available to give advice to businesses or individuals on any aspects of the Government's Budget 2014. Telephone Robert on: 01460 55661 or email him: robert@robert-stone.co.uk. Alternatively visit www.robert-stone.co.uk

CRW Accountants

How to make "savings" with HM Revenue and Customs's blessing

BUSINESS owners will know that things have changed substantially and frequently over recent years, amongst which, changes in tax allowances, Capital allowances, Pension and investment reliefs, together with what is or, what is not legally tax deductible, should be looked at by Accountants and their Clients on a continuous basis so that all available legitimate "savings" can be made. Things now change so fast that Clients should expect to consult with and be informed by their Accountants throughout the year, not just at a "year end review" so that action can be taken in good time. For the benefit of their Clients, CRW Accountants provide a monthly tax and finance e-bulletin. Their monthly bulletin enables people in business, together with pure self-assessment Clients to manage their affairs to get the best legally available advantages and tax "savings" from the mass of new tax legislation which arises in each year. In today's ever more demanding financial and taxation environment, CRW Accountants provide totally modern services to discerning Clients who want to be reassured that Client service received is personally tailored to their needs. Clients can thus benefit from up-to-the-minute "tax saving" information whilst ensuring that their tax affairs are fully HM Revenue and Customs compliant. Directors Hayley Perham or Chris Way welcome enquiries on 01297 553286 or crwaccountants@btconnect.com.

Starting up a business, a guide from GOV.UK

Start with an idea

IF YOU'RE thinking of starting up a business, you'll first need to come up with a realistic idea that you can turn into a product or service. Find local support, including help with developing business ideas, on the National Enterprise Network website.

Register your idea

You might have already come up with an idea for a business you think there's a market for, or invented something you think people will want to buy. Find out how to register your idea to make sure nobody copies it without your permission.

Turn your idea into a business

1. Research your market - identify potential customers. Talk to them and find out if your idea is meeting a real need.

2. Develop and plan - test your product or service with real customers, make changes, and test it again. Keep doing this until you're sure there's a demand for it.

3. Find partners and suppliers - think about who you're going to work with to develop and sell your idea.

4. Set up your business - work out which legal structure is right for you, and whether you want to sell shares.

5. Get funding - explore different sources of business finance, from bank loans to government-backed schemes.

If you're unemployed, you might be able to get support and financial help from Jobcentre Plus.

Contact the Business Link Helpline for help and advice on starting or growing your business.

Business Link Helpline 0845 600 9006 Monday to Friday, 9am to 6pm

Part 2: Research your market

Test your business idea with potential customers to check if there's real demand for what you're planning to sell. This lets you find out about any problems and fix them before you've wasted too much time, effort and money.

Watch a video on researching your market to understand your customers' needs.

1. Identify potential customers. Talk to them and find out about their needs.

2. If you can, make a basic version of your product or service (a 'prototype'). Work out the cheapest and quickest way of making something that lets you find out if you're meeting a real customer need.

3. Test it with them and get feedback. Find out what they'd be willing to pay for it. Try out different prices with different customers in a consistent, realistic way to see what people will really pay. Can you make enough money for a return on your investment?

4. If there are other businesses competing for your market, think about what will make you different. Can you provide something better than what's already available?

Example

If you're in retail you could try different opening hours or home delivery. You could aim for a specific group of customers who aren't being targeted by other businesses (a 'market niche'), make something that's easier to use than competitors' products, or meet a customer need by solving a problem that nobody's ever solved before.

If you're starting a retail business, think about testing your idea by taking a short-term lease on premises for a few weeks or months. Watch videos on choosing your business premises, and deciding whether to rent or buy.

Part 3: Develop and plan

Develop and change your idea based on what you've found out about your customers' needs before investing. Deal with any problems you've found with your product or service, including the way you're planning to make and sell it.

Go back to your customers and test again.

Keep doing this until you're confident that they'll be willing to pay what you're asking, and that you're meeting their needs.

If there's no real demand for your idea, think about changing it completely. Is there another product, service or market that uses your skills and resources in a different way?

Write a business plan

A business plan is a good way to sum up: • the customer need you're aiming to meet

• how your business will meet that need while making a profit

It should clearly show the results of your customer research, and that you're able to explain how you can turn your idea into viable business before you invest lots of time and money.

Your plan can also be a very helpful tool to convince other people of the value of your business. This includes potential partners and sources of funding.

Part 4: Find partners and suppliers

Many businesses start with just one person, known as a 'sole trader'. If you set up as a sole trader you'll be self-employed, which means you'll be your own boss. You'll also be responsible for:

- managing your own time
- looking after all of your company's admin and accounts
- taking risks with your own money, particularly if you're leaving full-time employment

Whether you set up as a sole trader, partnership or limited company, your business is likely to involve working with more people to develop and sell your idea - including partners, suppliers and distributors.

Partners

Finding a co-founder with relevant skills and knowledge that are different to yours lets you focus on what you're best at.

For example, you might be selling a product you invented, or a service that uses a particular skill or talent you have, but not have any hands-on experience of running a business. If so, you might want to work with someone who has business and management skills, and can look after things like financial planning and recruitment.

Consider working with several partners in a team. You'll be able to share responsibilities including risk, getting funding, expertise and sharing contacts.

Suppliers

Whether you're making a product and you need raw materials, or supplies and equipment to run your service, many businesses need to work closely with suppliers.

Search online and talk to other businesses. Draw up a list of potential suppliers. Get estimates, then go and talk to them so you can:

- negotiate prices
- start to develop relationships
- get a sense of which suppliers are reliable and trustworthy

You'll need to agree on payment terms with your suppliers, and get them in writing. This includes your 'trade credit' period (how many days you agree to pay invoices within), and whether they can offer you discounts for things like buying in bulk or quick payments.

You'll also need to find suppliers for the equipment you'll need to run your business, including your IT systems.

Getting your product to market

If you're planning to sell your product in shops and expand outside of your local area, you'll need to work with a distributor. If you're selling overseas, consider [working with a freight forwarder] /freight-forwarding-moving-goods "Freight forwarders: moving goods") who can deal with exporting your goods.

Build a website

You can also attract customers and increase awareness by setting up a website for your business. Search online for resources, as well as local web design and development companies you can work with.

You may also be able to sell your product or service directly through your website.

Part 5: Set up your business

You'll need to decide which legal structure is right for your business before you register and start trading.

It's important to understand the different risks and benefits before you choose - whether you set up as a sole trader, limited company or partnership affects:

- the amount of financial risk you're taking on
- the way you'll need to pay tax, and report to HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC) and Companies House (for limited companies and some types of partnership)
- how much control you have over how your business is run

Employing people

If you'll need extra help or people with specific skills to run your business, you might decide to take on employees. Find out about your legal responsibilities as an employer, including things like pay, tax and insurance, before you start employing staff.

You'll need to register as an employer with HMRC if you want to employ people, even if you're a sole trader.

Working with advisers

Make sure you get an estimate from any advisers you work with, and agree in advance what they will do.

Some advisers will charge an hourly fee, and others may offer a fixed price for a piece of work. It's always worth getting several quotes before you decide who to use, so you can compare prices and make sure you'll be able to work well together.

Accountants

An accountant can help with things like financial advice and managing growth. You can also appoint them as an 'agent' to deal with your tax affairs, submit your VAT returns and deal with HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC) on your behalf.

Legal advisers

You should also consider getting legal advice when setting up your business. This is particularly important if you want to sell shares.

Part 6: Get funding

When you start a business, there'll usually be a period when you're investing lots of time, effort and money before you start making a profit. It's important to research your market to make sure your customers will really pay for your product or service before you do this.

Once you're confident that they will, you should explore different sources of funding to help with the costs of starting up your business.

Government schemes

If you need some initial funding to test and develop your business idea, you might be able to get help from a government-backed support scheme.

Get a bank loan

Once you can show that there's a market for your idea, one option for funding your start-up costs is getting a bank loan. You'll need to be able to:

- give the bank realistic cash flow forecasts
- prove that you'll be able to pay back the loan with interest

The bank might require you to provide security against your loan, like your house or car, in case you don't repay. You should think carefully about how much risk you're willing to take on before you get a loan or give any personal guarantees.

Subaru Impreza returns to the UK

SUBARU UK is to bring the Impreza back to the UK, with the latest model going on sale throughout the network from 1 May.

The new model will be limited to one, non-turbo engine and one trim level with a choice of transmissions. The new 1.6-litre Impreza RC will be priced from £17,495 (on-the-road) for five-speed manual models and from £18,995 for models fitted with Subaru's Lineartronic transmission. The Impreza will be the only car in the C-segment to offer All-Wheel Drive (AWD) as standard on every model.

A combination of a more favourable exchange rate and persistent customer demand has led to the decision to make the Impreza available again in the UK market in small volumes, and will offer an interesting and price competitive alternative to much more established competition in the highly competitive C-segment. The latest Impreza has been enjoying significant sales success in both its home market of Japan and in the US since its launch in 2012.

Since its introduction to the global market in 1992, the Impreza has become the most famous of Subaru model names, with the brand's high-tech Symmetrical AWD system and four-cylinder horizontally-opposed Boxer engines core to the car's road-going abilities and appeal.

The new Impreza retains these attributes, featuring a new-generation 1.6-litre Boxer petrol engine, the latest version of Subaru's hallmark All-Wheel Drive as standard equipment, and an impressive range of safety and fuel efficiency aids.

Design and practicality

The new Impreza was designed to offer excellent stability on the road and a high level of practicality. The car's hawk-eye headlights and hexagonal grille show that it belongs to the Subaru family, while its prominent wheel arches emphasise its All-Wheel Drive character. The A-pillar is located closer to the front of the car than its predecessors, allowing a sleeker, more aerodynamic shape and a more spacious cabin.

Inside the car, the cabin is composed of a range of highly-durable and high quality materials. The impression of spaciousness is enhanced by a wide field of vision, wider door dimensions and higher hip points in all seats. The dashboard and steering wheel feature clear switches and controls, with a Multi-Function Display screen atop the central console.

1.6-litre Boxer engine and choice of transmissions

Like all of its predecessors, the new Impreza is equipped with a four-cylinder horizontally-opposed Boxer engine, providing a lower centre of gravity for superior road-holding, and for the best compromise between performance and fuel efficiency.

The new model will be sold in the UK with a 1.6-litre Boxer petrol engine, producing 114ps and 150Nm of torque for eager throttle response. The engine features separate cooling circuits for the cylinder block and cylinder head, allowing it to warm-up more quickly to reduce friction and improve fuel economy. An Active Valve Control System helps keep engine friction even lower by reducing the oil pump relief pressure. A maintenance-free chain-type camshaft drive belt further improves efficiency. The 1.6-litre engine in the Impreza complies with Euro 5 emissions standards.

The New Mercedes-Benz S 63 AMG Coupé

▲ The new Mercedes-Benz S 63 AMG Coupé

The new S 63 AMG Coupé is the latest dream car to augment the Mercedes-AMG model range. Exciting lines underpin this two-door model's design. Dominance and sensual purity combine to lend the vehicle irresistible presence and effortlessly superior sportiness. Equally impressive is the combination of high driving dynamics, ambitious lightweight construction and groundbreaking efficiency. As the most powerful member of the BlueDIRECT engine family, the AMG 5.5-litre V8 biturbo engine is a paragon of poise and assurance. Boasting an output of 585 hp and 900 Nm of torque, the S 63 AMG Coupé delivers exceptional performance with remarkably low fuel consumption. And there is a world first in the shape of the curve tilting function, part of the MAGIC BODY CON-TROL suspension system, to further enhance both driving pleasure and comfort.

Tobias Moers, Chairman of the Board of Management of Mercedes-AMG GmbH: "The new S 63 AMG Coupé is another exciting AMG dream car in the luxury segment. Mercedes-AMG is putting the pedal to the metal again in the new year. Our model initiative is set to continue at blistering pace in 2014."

65 kilograms lighter thanks to AMG Lightweight Performance

The S 63 AMG Coupé is the latest model to benefit from the systematic implementation of the AMG Lightweight Performance strategy. Lightweight construction has reduced the vehicle weight by 65 kilograms – even though the car has a higher output and more extensive standard equipment than the predecessor model. This weight saving was achieved largely thanks to the use of a lightweight lithium-ion battery, AMG forged light-alloy wheels and a weight-optimised AMG high-performance composite braking system.

Furthermore, the entire outer skin and the front end of the body are made of aluminium. The reduced weight improves driving dynamics and cuts fuel consumption, while the low power-to-weight ratio of 3.41 kg/hp results in effortlessly superior performance: the S 63 AMG Coupé accelerates from 0 to 62 mph in 3.9 to 4.3 seconds, depending on model variant, and goes on to reach a top speed of 155 mph (electronically limited).

In terms of maximum output, torque and fuel consumption, the AMG 5.5-litre V8 biturbo engine remains one of the most efficient series-produced V8 engines of all. With an output of 585 hp and 900 Nm of torque, the AMG eight-cylinder unit from the BlueDIRECT engine family meets even the most demanding of requirements. Compared to the previous CL 63 AMG model, engine output has been increased by 41 hp and torque by 100 Nm. Yet the S 63 AMG Coupé still consumes less fuel: The NEDC combined figure of 27.9 mpg makes the two-door model the most fuel-efficient model in its competitive segment. Compliance with the EU6 emissions standard shows that performance, efficiency and environmental compatibility are by no means mutually exclusive at Mercedes-AMG.

AMG sports exhaust system with automatic exhaust flaps

Emotive and sporty performance or restrained and relaxing cruising: the S 63 AMG Coupé even has a choice of bespoke sounds. The AMG sports exhaust system meets individual driver requirements as it has automatic logic-controlled exhaust flaps in both rear silencers. When the transmission is in "C" (Controlled Efficiency) mode, the flaps remain closed in most situations, in which case the eight-cylinder biturbo engine's sound is more understated. In "S" (Sport) and "M" (Manual) modes, the exhaust flaps open earlier and more spontaneously, especially if the driver prefers a dynamic driving style. The result is an even fuller, hallmark AMG emotive engine sound.

"One man, one engine": a tradition of hand-built excellence

Like all AMG V8 and V12 engines, the eight-cylinder biturbo engine for the S 63 AMG Coupé is assembled by hand at the AMG engine shop in Affalterbach. Highly qualified engine fitters assemble the engines in Affalterbach according to the strictest quality standards based on the "one man, one engine" philosophy. Apart from serving as an AMG hallmark confirming superlative precision and production quality, the AMG engine plate bearing the engine technician's signature also attests to the peerless DNA of Mercedes-Benz's high-performance brand.

New Porsche Cayman GTS Resets Sports Coupe Benchmark

THE new Porsche Cayman GTS is the most powerful and fastest edition of the mid-engined coupe from the German sports car manufacturer to date. With an uprated engine and sharpened chassis responses, the Cayman GTS sets a new benchmark for sporting performance in its market.

Since its debut in 2005, the Cayman has earned a particular reputation as a driver's car. At the heart of the two-seater beats a charismatic flat-six engine, positioned deep in the middle of the chassis to offer a low centre of gravity for a balanced and precise driving experience. Furthermore, the distinctive coupe styling confers a high level of torsional rigidity which further enhances the dynamic virtuosity.

The six-cylinder 'boxer' engine in the Cayman GTS is based on the 3.4-litre engine of the Cayman S. Specific fine tuning has delivered an additional 15 hp (11 kW), with the result that the Cayman GTS offers 340 hp (250 kW). The torque has also increased by ten newton metres to 380 Nm.

Further emphasising the distinctive character of the GTS is the Sport Chrono package and Porsche Active Suspension Management (PASM), fitted as standard. These offer the driver the opportunity to not only modify the damper stiffness, but also subtly change the throttle characteristics of the engine. In conjunction with the optional Doppelkupplungsgetriebe (PDK) seven-speed double-clutch transmission, the Launch Control function accessed via the Sport Plus button enables the Cayman GTS to accelerate from 0-62 mph in 4.6 seconds, 0.3 secs quicker than a standard Cayman S with PDK.

With the standard manual six-speed transmission, a top speed of 177 mph is possible. The new GTS is also the first mid-engined Porsche coupe to be certified according to the Euro 6 emissions standard, and achieves an overall fuel consumption with PDK of 34.4 mpg Combined (31.4 mpg with manual transmission).

The dynamic engine mounts also offered as part of the Sport Chrono package enables the Cayman GTS to offer an impressive breadth of chassis responsiveness. Under acceleration, cornering or braking, the mountings between the body shell and engine stiffen automatically to reduce the effects of mass transfer during dynamic manoeuvres, further increasing agility.

Two-goal Turner decides local derby Honiton Town hit five to close in on promotion

MATCH REPORTS

AXMINSTER TOWN 3 SIDMOUTH TOWN 2

AXMINSTER Town came from behind to win a stormy local derby with visiting Sidmouth Town on Saturday.

The Tigers led through a Ben Turner goal midway through the first-half. But the visitors drew level courtesy of a Mike Pidgeon shot from the edge of the box soon after the turnaround.

Two minutes later Sidmouth were ahead. Andrew Thompson netting from outside with a shot that zipped in off an upright deceiving keeper Brett Garner.

Ax leveled in the 70th minute when Turner bagged his second before The Viking were reduced to 10-men when Wes Tarr was shown a second yellow card.

The winner came courtesy of a Danny Bailey strike in the 85th minute.

The local duo could have their hands full next Saturday with Axminster on the road at third-placed Stoke Gabriel while the Vikings welcome Exwick Villa who currently sit third.

FRESH DEVON & EXETER
PREMIER leaders ST MARTINS strode to a convincing 5-1 victory against reigning champions FENITON to complete the double.

Former Feniton striker Dan Norman notched twice, Andy Brooks, Dylan Dare and Pete Eveleigh completing the win.

Despite missing five regulars NEWTOWN retained their unbeaten record with a much needed 4-0 win at WILAND ROVERS. Corey O'Donoghue 2, Ralph Gill and Luke Todd were Newtowns marksmen.

Martyn Hancock struck twice for SEATON TOWN as they powered to a 4-1 win against BUDLEIGH SALTERTON. Mark Hancock also scored but was later sent off along with the Robins' Nick Bartlett. Jake Richards added a fourth goal.

BEER ALBION triumphed 1-0 at CLYST VALLEY, THORVERTON also won 1-0 at home to TOPSHAM TOWN, and EXETER UNIVERSITY won a close game at CHARD TOWN

Division One leaders ELMORE were checked by a 1-1 draw against WITHERIDGE in their local derby.

SIDBURY UNITED closed the gap after their 3-1 victory at CULLOMPTON RANGERS and move 11 points clear of WELLINGTON TOWN who pocketed a point from a 2-2 draw at the UNIVERSITY.

NEWTON POPPLEFORD still await a first point after slipping to a 3-0 defeat against the BEACON KNIGHTS.

HONITON TOWN took another big step towards the Division Two title with a 5-0 win against PINHOE. Brad Groves and Tim Genders both netted twice.

DOLPHIN were content with a 1-0 victory at LYMPSTONE, especially as promotion rivals NEWTON ST CYRES were held to a goalless draw by COLYTON.

UPOTTERY are just one point from promotion from Division Three after their 1-0 win at third place NEWTOWN.

Rivals HEMYOCK suffered a 4-0 reverse at CHULMLEIGH, but the UNIVERSITY FOURTHS threaten the title challenge after they beat CHAGFORD 3-0.

EXMOUTH TOWN took over as Division Four leaders dislodging AXMOUTH UNITED 3-2.

Division Five leaders LAPFORD had to work overtime for their 2-1 win against WESTEX ROVERS, while their main rivals stumbled. MORCHARD BISHOP were held 1-1 by BEER ALBION, and ST MARTINS foundered 4-2 at AMORY PARK RANGERS.

DAWLISH UNITED closed in as they won 4-2 at DUNKESWELL, LANGDON routed COUNTESS WEAR 7-0, and BOW AAC also made up ground winning 1-0 against FENITON with an own goal.

UPLOWMAN stepped up their chase for the Division Six title winning 4-1 against STARCROSS GENERALS with Adam Bond, Rob Hanna, Brian Redwood and Adam Cumes scoring.

However the eye opener came at OTTERY ST MARY where they were beaten 6-2 by HALWILL 2NDS. Gareth Osman and Ben Felouws both scored twice. Vince Brown and Jack Crimmins once.

MILLWEY RISE 0 SHEPTON BEAUCHAMP 3

MILLWEY RISE drew a blank for the first time in 50 matches and were made to pay as Shepton Beauchamp eased back up to fourth spot in the Premier Division table. Steve Usher, Doug Whitfield and Will Aplin scored for the goals for the visitors who's manager Aggie Smith felt the score line flattered his side.

A Gary Venn goal couldn't save MILLWEY RESERVES who crashed out of the Bill Bailey cup beaten 4-1 in the derby game at HAWKCHURCH UNITED. Man-of-the-Match Josh Short, Stewart Weir, Jon Turner and Andy Dymond (pen) netted for the Hawks who led 3-0 at half-time.

Over at Eastlee Park a double from Dan Williams saw FARWAY UNITED book their place in the semi-finals of the Arthur Gage cup with a 2-1 win over Uplyme.

Finally, FARWAY RESERVES ran high-flying Thorncombe Res close before going down 4-3. Mark Burrough, Jack Murrell and Nathan Foggins (pen) were on target for the visitors.

AXE CLIFF with Helen Kenworthy

THE Fog on Friday, March 14th caused the cancellation of the Seniors' March Medal, but earlier in the week the weather was kinder for the first round of this year's Emerton Court Trophy match at Dartmouth.

The team put in a sterling performance despite losing 4-1. Two of the games ended all-square and the final match was decided in Dartmouth's favour on the 18th green.

The half points for Axe Cliff were won by Tony Strong & Peter Knighting and Chris Jowett & Bill Polley.

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS with Dave Mutter

CAROL Austin swapped the English sun for the Portuguese variety and ran the Falesia 5k on 18th March while on holiday in a training camp in the Algarve.

She won the W50 in 22:35, a new W50 course record for a very hilly but beautiful route around the village of Falesia, beating locals, Germans, Russians and fellow Brits.

No doubt this was followed by a drop or two of fine wine!

Help required ahead of big season

SIDMOUTH Cricket Club is jumping the gun to get its facilities in shape for the forthcoming season.

Werrington and De Montfort University are scheduled to be playing at the Fortfield on April 5th and 6th respectively, which are the designated days for clubs across the country to participate in NatWest CricketForce and get their grounds fit for action.

These early matches have necessitated Sidmouth allocating Saturday, March 29th, as its NatWest CricketForce day.

Even that early in the season members will have to beware of flying cricket balls because Devon County Cricket Club is hoping to use the ground for its first outdoor practice session of the season on grass.

Groundsman Colin Whitehall said: "If the weather allows, this will be the earliest I have prepared pitches for."

"The dry spell in the middle of the month gave us a chance of getting the square and outfield ready, but before then the ground was so wet it was impossible to get machinery on."

Players and supporters have a number of painting tasks to undertake on the premature NatWest CricketForce day.

House and ground chairman John Goodwin said: "The timber clad pavilion and machine shed can never have too much preservative applied and the paintwork on window frames has suffered under the winter deluges.

"Cracks in the scoreboard masonry need filling before a coat of paint is put on and the sightscreens need their annual spruce up."

"There's also the synthetic turf practice net area to tidy up. Hopefully, we will have a good turn-out of players and supporters to get these tasks completed."

If the weather holds, Sidmouth will have four weekends of warm-up games before the Francis Clark Devon Premier League season opens on May 3rd with a visit to Bovey Tracey.

The Fortfield cricket programme is augmented by some prestigious representative matches. The Minor Counties champions, Cheshire, are hosted by Devon for a three-day match from July 6th to 8th.

Later that month the Minor Counties representative side meets Somerset II on July 24th and the following day MCC visit to play the Minor Counties Cricket Association. On May 11 Devon have a one-day match against Dorset.

Sidmouth has also been chosen to stage the area Twenty/20 finals on Sunday, August 10th, with the representatives of four South West ECB premier leagues taking part.

Tony flies the flag

AXE Valley Community College Year 10 student Tony Pinder completed in the National Schools Cross Country Championships at Castle Donington on Saturday, March 15th.

The course was long and very rutted under foot making it a challenging 5.2km.

But as ever Tony gave it everything he had and being surrounded by 345 other runners is a daunting experience.

His final placing was 276 which is a very creditable result considering Tony is running alongside Yr 11 boys.
